Whether teaching young people about grain bin safety or presenting information about new plants to the elderly, Gary Hall enjoys working with people.

As Regional Extension Education Director, Gary provides Extension programming leadership in five North Central counties: Cerro Gordo, Floyd, Franklin, Mitchell and Worth. He works with the county extension councils to determine and implement an issue-based approach to deliver ISU Extension programs and resources in North Central Iowa.

Improving the quality of life continues to be at the heart of ISU Extension work as we focus on the Iowa values of healthy people, healthy environments, and healthy economies.
