

Expressive Arts Earns 4-H'ers Awards at the Iowa State Fair

Marion County 4-H'ers created some of more than 900 expressive arts entries judged in the 4-H Exhibits Building at the Iowa State Fair.

"These 4-H'ers have demonstrated outstanding learning and ability in photography and the visual arts," said Dale Miller, Marion County Education Director. "Their projects have allowed them to learn new techniques and try a variety of creative media."

Iowa has more than 13,500 4-H'ers enrolled in photography, the highest in the 50 states, according to Mitchell Hoyer, program coordinator for Iowa State University Extension 4-H Youth Development. "The expressive arts projects let members explore career choices while developing their creative talents," Hoyer said.

Marion County exhibitors follow:

Jenny Adrian, Knoxville, picture of giant spoon and cherry, Blue

Trisha Collins, Pleasantville, picture of a sailboat, Blue

Tassi Cook, Pleasantville, black & white wagon photo, Blue

Katelyn DeHaan, Otley, picture of ice and pine cones, Blue

Madison Harken, Pleasantville, kitten photo, Blue

Dana Haselhuhn, Knoxville, windmill picture, Blue

Tyler Knight, Pella, picture of fruit, Red

Joey Lemay, Knoxville, pottery bowl, Red

Lindsey Lemay, Knoxville, black & white fish photo, Red

Joe Mohr, Pleasantville, painting, White

Deanna Shalon, Knoxville, photo of colored bottles, Blue

Timothy Shepherd, Knoxville, picture under patio table, Blue

Tisha Pol, Pella, colored drawing of a waving flag, Red

Renee Van Roekel, Pella, primary colors painting, Red

Holly Van Wyk, Knoxville, cornfield photo, Blue

Taylor VanWoerkom, Pella, glass earrings, Red

Lindsey Verhey, Leighton, horse painting, Red

"4-H learning is open to everyone," said Chuck Morris, Iowa State University Extension 4-H Youth Development director. "You can get involved at home all year round by calling the ISU county extension office."

For more 4-H information, contact Marion County ISU Extension office at 1445 Lake Drive, Knoxville, or phone 842-2014.