Money Talk: A Financial Guide for Women

Money management is a lifelong process. The Money Talk: A Financial Guide for Women series will help you learn to take charge of your money.

Topics include:

- financial basics
- insurance
- investing
- retirement planning
- planning for life events

You also will have the opportunity to complete exercises and interact with the instructor and other participants.

You will learn financial terminology and money management skills to become a more informed consumer. ISU Extension programs are educational and do not promote any product or company.

You can complete Money Talk at home two ways:

- Online Money Talk

Cover the material in the Money Talk workbook at your convenience. Each week a new topic will be introduced. You will be encouraged to complete exercises. You will have the opportunity to interact on the Web with the instructors and other course participants and to have your questions answered via the course chat room and email.

Minimum computer requirements: computer with 486 or higher processor, 32 Mb RAM, 28.8k Internet connection, and Web browser.

- Home study via the mail

Every week you will receive a study guide to accompany the Money Talk workbook. You will be encouraged to complete activities and submit questions to the instructors.

Total price of the course is $75. The fee includes a 190-page workbook.
