DRESS

4-H’ers attending Iowa 4-H Youth Conference and Animal Science Round-Up should wear clothing appropriate to the occasion. Delegates represent themselves as well as Iowa 4-H Youth groups to all the students and faculty of Iowa State University and the 50,000 residents of Ames. Acceptable dress for most activities is casual clothing that represents the student well.

Unacceptable clothing includes:

- cutoffs
- short shorts
- T-shirts with inappropriate imprints
- hats at banquet, speaker sessions, or workshops
- Females: no backless shirts, bare midriff or low-cut tops; spaghetti straps are acceptable as long as undergarment is not seen. Shorts and dresses should be long enough that everything is covered.
- Males: no muscle shirts.
- If you have to ask if it’s appropriate, it probably isn’t, so leave it at home.

Clothing under discretion of State Council, 4-H Staff, and chaperones. If it’s questionable, don’t bring it. For service projects on Wednesday, please wear shirts with the 4-H emblem on them with comfortable clothing which will get dirty. Closed-toed shoes are necessary for this portion. We also encourage you to bring a reusable/re-fillable water bottle that you can keep with you during the service project & throughout Conference.

The Wednesday night banquet is a dressy occasion. Acceptable attire for female delegates includes dress pants, skirts, or formals. Acceptable attire for males varies from dress slacks with a nice shirt to a suit and tie. Jeans and hats are not acceptable for the banquet.

SHOES—comfortable shoes are most important. The ISU campus is large and Conference requires lots of walking. Blisters are the biggest health problem the delegates have.
