FARM MANAGEMENT RESOURCE GUIDE

This resource guide is intended for use by County Extension Office Assistants and County staff to determine subject matter expertise among farm management specialists.

While your point of contact Farm Management Specialist (see administrative coverage map at www.extension.iastate.edu/ag/fsfm/fsfarmmg.html) has the ability to answer most questions, in the event that point of contact farm management specialist is unavailable, this resource guide is designed to direct you to the Farm Management Specialist with the “Subject Matter Expertise (SME)” to best answer your question.

I. RISK AND FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT

Risk and financial management can be divided into seven areas: (1) marketing (dairy, grain, and livestock), (2) insurance, (3) USDA commodity programs, (4) general economics of crops and livestock, (5) global agriculture, (6) financial analysis/decision making, and (7) input management (farmland, buildings, people, and machinery). Marketing resources include general information and data on terms (such as basis), tools (such as options, futures, and contracts), and outlook. Insurance resources include terms and information on alternative insurance products (CRC, Revenue Assurance, CAT, etc.). The USDA commodity program area focuses on federal legislation and how producers should integrate the various program elements into overall farm decisions. Financial analysis/decision making includes information on financial statements, benchmarks for analysis, and financial analysis tools. Input management covers a wide variety of topics including farmland and building leasing, land valuation, human resource management, and farm machinery management. Information located under each area includes current and proposed educational programs as well as resources.

A. MARKETING

Although marketing products beyond corn, soybeans, hogs, cattle, and dairy occur in Iowa, these products comprise the vast majority of marketing within the State. Marketing resources include general information on price, basis, outlook, etc., educational programs and publications related to the marketing topic, and a listing of other organizations that deliver educational programs on the marketing topic.

1. Dairy marketing and economics
   General information on milk prices, outlook, and other economic considerations for dairy producers

1. Kristen Schulte (kschulte@iastate.edu) and Melissa O’Rourke (morourke@iastate.edu) are our state leader contacts regarding dairy marketing and economics questions.

2. ISUE Farm Economics Issues-Dairy Issues (www.extension.iastate.edu/feci/dairy). This web site is a portal to many different web sites that provide marketing and dairy financial management information.
3. University of Wisconsin ‘Understanding Dairy Markets’ (http://future.aae.wisc.edu/). Provides a variety of dairy market news, prices and tutorials about dairy marketing. This page is maintained by Dr. Brian Gould University of Wisconsin-Madison. The Center for Dairy Profitability at the University of Wisconsin also provides a variety of materials about business management for dairy producers (http://cdp.wisc.edu/)

4. National Program for Integrated Dairy Risk Management Education & Research (http://aede.osu.edu/programs/dairyRME). This Ohio State University site provides dairy marketing education along with dairy risk management planning software.

2. Grain

   General information on prices, basis, outlook, etc. General information can be found at a wide variety of sources. The focus in the resource guide will be on web pages because they are easily accessible.

1. Dr. Chad Hart (chart@iastate.edu) Dr. Hart is our state leader contact regarding grain marketing. Field specialist contacts include Tim Eggers (teggers@iastate.edu), Tom Olsen (tolsen@iastate.edu), Steve Johnson, (sdjohns@iastate.edu) and Bob Wells (wellsjb@iastate.edu).

   Dr. Hart’s web site (http://www.econ.iastate.edu/faculty/hart/) contains useful links to a wide variety of resources covering such topics as price forecasting, marketing, basis, market outlook and price risk management. These resources can be accessed with the following links.

   - Ag Decision Maker (www.extension.iastate.edu/agdm/)
   - Dr. Wisner's Crop Balance Sheets (www.extension.iastate.edu/agdm/info/outlook.html)
   - CME/Chicago Board of Trade/NYMEX (www.cmegroup.com/)
   - CARD's Iowa and Midwest Crop Basis Maps (www.card.iastate.edu/ag_risk_tools/basis_maps/)
   - ISU Extension's Iowa Farm Outlook (www.econ.iastate.edu/ifo/)
   - USDA’s Crop Progress Reports (http://usda.mannlib.cornell.edu/MannUsda/viewDocumentInfo.do?documentID=1048)
   - USDA’s Crop Production Reports (http://usda.mannlib.cornell.edu/MannUsda/viewDocumentInfo.do?documentID=1046)
   - USDA’s Acreage Reports (http://usda.mannlib.cornell.edu/MannUsda/viewDocumentInfo.do?documentID=1000)
   - USDA’s Prospective Plantings Reports (http://usda.mannlib.cornell.edu/MannUsda/viewDocumentInfo.do?documentID=1136)
   - USDA’s Crop Values Annual Summary Reports (http://usda.mannlib.cornell.edu/MannUsda/viewDocumentInfo.do?documentID=1050)
   - USDA’s Agricultural Prices Summary Reports (http://usda.mannlib.cornell.edu/MannUsda/viewDocumentInfo.do?documentID=1003)
2. Marketing outlook web page - (www.econ.iastate.edu/ifo/). The marketing outlook page is a source for the outlook newsletter, published monthly by Dr. Chad Hart and Shane Ellis. This newsletter features commentary on today’s grain and livestock outlook and links to government reports affecting producers’ grain and livestock pricing decisions, as well as cost of production and forecast of grain and livestock prices.

This site maintains a library of past outlook reports.

3. Farm economics: current issues (FECI) - (www.extension.iastate.edu/feci). The FECI web page refers users to ISUE and other land grant university sources. Marketing information can be found by clicking on "Grain and Livestock Marketing" located in the middle of the page. A resource unique to this site is a listing of Market Outlook sources sorted on the frequency of updating.

4. Market Information web page (www.extension.iastate.edu/Pages/markets/). This web page can be found on the Extension home page by clicking on “Markets” in the Extension Information column on the left hand side. Audio files of interviews, price comparisons, commodity reports, and futures prices links can be found on this page.

5. State Basis Graphs (www.card.iastate.edu/ag_risk_tools/basis_maps/). This interactive site of the Center for Agriculture and Rural Development allows producers to create a “basis” map. The maps can be used to compare both current and historical price differences between elevators in Iowa and the Chicago Board of Trade prices. This information is useful to producers in determining where the best price for their commodity is on a given day.

Educational programs/publications include. Educational programs are provided through a variety of educational mediums (paper, web, workbook, etc.). Web courses utilize WebCT to deliver the content to participants, which offers interactive learning at flexible times.

1. Agricultural Management e-School (AMES) on-line home study course: Advanced Grain Marketing (AGM) – contact: Tim Eggers (teggers@iastate.edu). Participants learn the concepts and tools needed in order to develop a personal marketing plan. The class includes price trends, storage costs, cash marketing, futures and options. After completing the course, students should understand market fundamentals, supply and demand balance sheets, risk management tools, and market outlook information. Additional information can be viewed at www.extension.iastate.edu/ames/agm.htm.

2. Ag Decision Maker – contact: Ann Johanns (aholste@iastate.edu). Ag Decision Maker is a resource guide in its own right and is available on-line at: www.extension.iastate.edu/agdm. Specific contents related to grain marketing are available under Crops, Markets or on the Current Outlook and Profitability page (www.extension.iastate.edu/agdm/info/outlook.html). These files are an excellent resource for basic understanding of marketing and marketing tools.

3. Winning the Game Workshops – contact: Farm Management Field Specialist in your area. These 3-hour workshops were developed in cooperation with the Iowa Farm Bureau Federation and the University of Minnesota Center for Farm Financial Management. Workshops feature simulated grain marketing activities and current seasonal price trends, crop insurance tools, basis, carry and cost of ownership information.

4. Opportunities: Managing Risks and Profits (www.econ.iastate.edu/agrisk). This web site has a wide variety of links regarding USDA market outlook, futures exchanges, crop insurance, weather, and other topics related to marketing and risk management.

5. Extension publications (https://www.extension.iastate.edu/store/). A variety of marketing publications can be found by clicking on Farm Management and Farm Marketing. The files are in pdf format and can be downloaded or printed. Publications PM1697 (a)-(c) are a good source of information on grain contracts.

Other organizations/agencies involved. There are other organizations that provide educational materials and programs directed at grain marketing. The Chicago Board of Trade (CME Group) has a wide assortment of marketing information and educational booklets on basis, futures, and options. The publications normally have to be ordered.

3. Livestock

General information on prices, basis, outlook, etc. General information can be found at a wide variety of sources. The focus in the resource guide will be on web pages because they are easily accessible.

1. Shane Ellis – Shane Ellis is our state leader regarding livestock marketing. Field specialist contacts are Kristen Schulte (kschulte@iastate.edu) and Bob Wells (wellsjb@iastate.edu). The Iowa Farm Outlook & News web page - (www.econ.iastate.edu/ifo/) includes information on livestock economics (estimated livestock returns), marketing reports and papers, information on current topics, and a variety of links to pork and beef industry materials, the Iowa Beef Center, the Iowa Pork Industry Center, and other livestock data.

2. Marketing outlook web page (www.econ.iastate.edu/ifo/). The marketing outlook page includes primarily two items. The first is the outlook newsletter that Dr. Hart, Shane Ellis, Kristen Schulte, David Swenson, and Leisl Eathington publish once per month. The newsletter includes current topics related to various factors affecting the supply and demand for grain or livestock (which, in turn, affects the price). Topics presented include planning price forecasts, alternative marketing strategies, and factors impacting Iowa agriculture and economy.

3. Farm economics: current issues (FECI) - (www.extension.iastate.edu/feci). The FECI web page includes an enormous amount of relevant information. The marketing information can be found by clicking on "Grain and Livestock Marketing" located in the middle of the page. The site provides resources designed to help decision makers.

Educational programs/publications include. Educational programs are provided through a variety of educational mediums (paper, workbook, etc.).
