Project area: Communication Number of years in this project: 1

I made a poster for a presentation at school and thought this would be a great 4-H educational project. My poster described the pros and cons of Facebook usage. I wanted to educate others to be cautious of the information that they post and then also explain how it also has a positive side.

Project area: Photography Number of years in this project: 3

For photography I wanted to take different angles of a flower and then pick the best angle to take by fair time. I achieved this goal by taking time to get that “perfect” angle and take it to the fair to be judged. Next year I plan to use different camera settings and lightings for my photography fair project.
