Barn Quilts of Buchanan County

The Barn Quilts of Buchanan County is a project that is designed to celebrate the agricultural heritage of our county by highlighting local farm buildings with beautiful, quilt-related folk art.

The original Barn Quilt Project began in Adams County, Ohio in 2001 as a way to attract tourists into a very underdeveloped region of the state. The project quickly caught on and quilt blocks were soon adorning barns all over southern Ohio into Tennessee, North Dakota, and of course Iowa.

The Barn Quilts of Buchanan County serves as a way to celebrate our local diverse heritage. Barn Quilts of Buchanan County began in 2006 with a small committee of dedicated volunteers. In just a few short years they had accomplished painting and placing 110 quilt blocks around the county!
