

EXPLORE CASS COUNTY 4-H

What is 4-H?

The 4-H promise to youth and parents is: fun, friends, voice, choices, great trips, and events, a safe place to learn and try new things, leadership, citizenship, communication skills, service opportunities, adults who care, and hands-on learning experiences.

4-H allows youth to explore whatever interests them, with over 45 project areas ranging from aerospace to woodworking, pets to horses, photography to science and technology.

4-H is for school-aged youth. Clover Kids is for youth currently enrolled in grades K-3. Community 4-H clubs are for youth currently enrolled in grades 4-12.

What can 4-H members do?

- Attend club and project meetings, serve as club officers
- Give back to others in their club and community
- Learn recordkeeping skills
- Participate in county wide activities
- Exhibit at county fair, attend camps, make friends, & travel

What happens at a club meeting?

- Meetings may include pre-meeting activities
- Discussion of club business
- Recreation activities
- Presentations by members or leaders
- Club service activities
- Field trips
- Guest Speakers
- Hands-on learning
- Friend/Relationship Building

Parents, why should your child join 4-H?

- 4-H empowers youth to reach their full potential, by working and learning in partnership with caring adults.
- Positive youth development is key cornerstone of 4-H. 4-H provides opportunity for mastery, service, self-determination, planning for the future and engaged learning.
- 4-H has been proven to build productive citizens, outstanding communicators, effective leaders and successful learners.
