Who Should Attend

Any Iowa business interested in selling goods or services to city, county, state, or federal governments

Discover

• How to investigate government markets and the opportunities they provide.

• How to submit a proposal to the government.

• How to accept a government contract and properly manage the project.

• How CIRAS can help you with all of the above.

Why Attend?

• Because selling to the government is a hugely profitable market for Iowa businesses, and you’re thinking of joining the fray or expanding your business into the government market.

• Attendees will learn how to get started with government contracting at the federal, state, and local levels. We’ll discuss available resources and tips to determine if selling to the government is right for you.
