Call for Nominations
2019-2020 Cohort

The Office of the Senior Vice President and Provost (SVPP) is pleased to announce a call for nominations for the 2019-2020 cohort of the Emerging Leaders Academy (ELA).

The Emerging Leaders Academy fosters and enhances leadership development of faculty and P&S staff currently serving in leadership roles, or those who aspire to such positions. ELA is offered annually to a selected cohort of current and future institutional leaders. During the academic year, the ELA cohort participates in monthly leadership activities led by content experts and facilitators. The activities are designed to create self-reflection, develop contextual skills, and create leadership competencies. This program will challenge and engage all levels of leaders to maximize their influence in the collective organization of their current and future positions. Learning outcomes are achieved through successful completion of modules examining important leadership competencies including strategic planning, budget development, performance management, understanding diversity, and creating an inclusive organizational culture. Emerging leaders will learn more about themselves as leaders while attaining skills that lead to outcomes of success for them and their organizations. Finally, cohort members will work in teams to complete a university-related capstone project as part of the leadership experience.

The 24 members of each ELA cohort are selected by nomination. Eligibility criteria are the following:

Faculty: Tenured faculty and advanced term faculty (senior lecturer, adjunct associate professor, clinical associate professor, research associate professor) Aspiring or recently appointed department, college, center, or institute leaders

P&S Staff: Staff members with appointment at P 35 or above (Those below P 35 may be considered if they have a record of demonstrated leadership) Aspiring or recently appointed department, college, unit, division, center, or institute leaders

ELA participants are selected on the basis of the nominator letter of support, the college/division ranking, and the nominee's essay, which should describe the nominee’s current leadership position, potential for future development, and how ELA will benefit the nominee’s professional goals. Should a nominee be chosen for the 2019-2020 cohort, the nominee must commit to attending all sessions given the structure of the program and receive supervisor approval to attend the ELA sessions.

Unit administrators should meet with potential nominees to discuss the ELA program and how participation might benefit the nominee and the unit. Individuals interested in participating are encouraged to discuss this program with their supervisor. Self-nominations will not be accepted. If selected, cohort members commit to participating in all monthly meetings. For the 2019-2020 cohort, the scheduled meeting dates are: September 5 (half day) and September 6 (all day), September 27, October 18, November 15, December 13 in 2019; and January 17, February 14, March 13, April 10 and May 11 (graduation) in 2020.

Tuition for each participant is $2000 which may be drawn from a combination of sources (general and/or non-general funds, ISU Foundation funds, advance commitment funds, etc.).
