My goal: What did you plan to learn or do?
- To learn how to make a 3D wall art.
- Maybe you wanted to learn about shadows? Or how colors go together? Or how 3D changes the way art looks?

What I did in achieving my goal (in steps):   What steps did you take to learn or do this? What decisions did you make in accomplishing your goal?
1. I picked out three accent colors and one light and one dark color for my paper. Tell about what colors you picked and why you pick them.
2. The 3D shapes were precut as a part of the workshop.
3. I drew a design on a piece of paper and thought about how I wanted to arrange my shapes.
4. We folded and taped the folded shapes into triangles. I had to be careful to line the tape up with the paper and not use too much or have it fold over the edges too much.
5. I laid out the shapes and looked at it from many different angles to make sure I like the placement of all the shapes.
6. We glued the shapes onto the canvas using hot glue or glue dots. I had to be careful to put the hot glue where it wouldn't be seen and pick all the strings away.

What I learned: What were the most important things you learned?

I learned that it looked better when you make sure the lines are lined up and all go in the same direction. This helps lead your eye to naturally follow the line and not be distracted. Having different hues of the same color added some dimension and helped with the unity of the project. Painting the white canvas gave the negative space a pop of color and really changed the way tone of the completed project.
