Please read the definition of Regular Physical Activity below:

For physical activity to be considered “regular” it must be done for 30 minutes at a time (or more) per day, and be done at least five days per week. The intensity of activity does not have to be vigorous but should be enough to increase your heart rate and/or breathing level somewhat.

Examples of activities could include brisk walking, leisure biking, swimming, line dancing, and aerobics classes or any other activities and other activities with a similar intensity level.

According to the above definition answer “YES” to ONLY ONE of the following questions:

	YES	NO
1. Do you currently engage in regular physical activity?
2. Do you intend to engage in regular physical activity in the next 6 months?
3. Do you intend to engage in regular physical activity in the next 30 days?
4. Have you been regularly physically active for the past six months?
