AUTUMN FEST GARDENING SEMINAR

October 1, 2022

Indianola Parks & Rec Activity Center from 9 am – 4 pm

Speakers

Derek McKay, Houseplants - Indoors and Out

Derek (greenhouse manager at Ted Lare Garden Center) will discuss the current trend of using houseplants in outdoor planters, how to prepare them for the move back inside, and how to take cuttings and nurture them through the winter to have something usable for the next season.

Tony Lemmo, Family, Heritage, and Heirloom Treasures

Tony (Des Moines Restaurateur and owner of Aposto) will discuss the importance of the garden at Aposto at The Scala House, and the significance of gardens amongst Italian Americans. He will also discuss the various family and friends' heirlooms he honors in the Aposto garden.

Jamie Seitz, In the Weeds with your Average Backyard Gardener

Jamie is a middle-grade and young adult fiction author. Her backyard garden adventures also become stories that pop up in the monthly humor column, "In the Weeds" in Garden Gate Magazine.

Barry Laws, Unusual Fall and Winter Plants in the Urban Garden

Barry (co-owner of Quilted Garden Nursery) will talk about unique and unusual plants for the urban landscape that gives you and your neighbors something to look at during the cold winter months.

Melissa Peterson, Pumpkins and Gourds: a New Way to Approach Fall Décor

Melissa (Garden Center Manager at Ted Lare Garden Center) will share with us some fun ways to decorate for fall and she will surely inspire you.
