What’s in this February newsletter...

- Art Of Gardening..... IS BACK!
- Tree and Plant Sale
- General and Board Meeting Dates
Dear Muscatine County Master Gardeners and friends!!

We are one month into our new year 2022!!

This issue of Worthwhile Dirt showcases the great work of several of your fellow Master Gardeners who once again are striving to plan and put together the best ever “Art of Gardening” event, now planned for Saturday, March 12, 2022.

The program brochure serves as the centerpiece for this newsletter and encourages you to peruse the great list of workshop sessions to be held this year. We know it won’t be easy to just pick 4 sessions from this vast array of gardening topics!!

We are planning a COVID safe event with masks, and social distancing being utilized during the day. We have changed things up a bit to make this event as safe as possible. Vendors will be moved to the Little Theatre, Registration to mid hallway, smaller workshop groups, Lunch in the Music Room with smaller numbers of attendees eating at one time just to mention a few of the changes we are implementing to ensure you are able to enjoy this fun gardening day!!

So hop online and sign up at eicc.edu/artofgardening.

Your super planning team includes Jan Koellner, William Koellner, Lynn Pruitt, Terri Hanson, Carolyn LeMaster, Erin Parks, Paula Arends, Lauren Nerad and Mary Wildermuth. A very special thank you to these folks for putting this event back together and on the 2022 Spring Calendar!!

Also included in this newsletter thanks to Mary Danner is the order blank and list of native plants available for purchasing from the Muscatine County Soil and Water Conservation District!! Deadline is February 28, 2022. (prepaid and received)

So now it’s your turn to look over the brochure, make your selections and go online and sign up for the 2022 Art of Gardening event on Saturday, March 12, 2022 and select the native plants you are hoping to plant this May!!

See you soon!!

SESSION 1

A. 20/20 Vision for Daylilies in 2022
KEITH RIEMERTS / CEDAR VALLEY IRIS AND DAYLILY SOCIETY
Overview of the incredible variety of daylilies. Photos and discussion of the many forms and variation that today’s hybridizers are exploring. What will grow best in our local climate? What resources are available locally, in CVISDS and online?

B. Creative Designs for Your Backyard
EVAN MEYER / MEYER LANDSCAPING AND DESIGN
Is your backyard a little drab or boring? Evan is a professional landscape designer who will share tips and ideas to make your yard delightful!

C. Eat the Weeds: Wild Edibles in Your Yard and Garden
KATHY DICE / RED FERN FARM
Many of the annoying weeds you put from your yard and gardens are actually delicious and healthy. Learn which ones are safe to eat and get some simple recipes. You will be delighted to be able to harvest some of those pesky plants.

D. New Perennials for 2022
MARIA MCCULLEY / HILTOP NURSERY
New items on the market are sometimes a bit scary...will it grow in my yard? Does it play well with others? This class will show some of the new perennials in the greenhouse for 2022 along with tips on placement for best success. Start off a new decade with a few new items to make your garden grow beautifully.

E. Ornamental Grasses: Which Ones and How?
DEB WALTZ / LINN COUNTY MG
Do you want to plant ornamental grasses with wonderful fall seed heads? Are you worried about the grasses spreading? Gardening expert, Deb Waltz, will show you which grasses are non-spreading, clump-forming and hardy to Eastern Iowa — many she grows herself. Come see and start planning for spring!

F. Six Steps to Pollinator Gardening Success
RON KNOPK / U.S. FISH & WILDLIFE
Here’s an opportunity to beautify your landscape and benefit from a myriad of pollinators that frequent Iowa and Illinois. We will discuss the native plants of the area and how to best use them in your garden.

G. Urban Trees and Shrubs
HANNA HOWARD / MUSCATINE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE
When it comes to selecting a tree or a plant, why don’t you try branching out? There are so many wonderful tree species to consider from ornamental varieties to native trees. We will go over tree species and site conditions to consider in your urban environment.

SESSION 2

A. Bees, Birds, Bats & Butterflies...Oh My!
LISA HINZMAN HOWARD / LINN COUNTY MG
Discover how you can attract pollinators to your garden and help them thrive. We’ll touch on why supporting pollinators matters, plant selection, yardscapes to help our flying friends and habitat do’s and don’ts for creating your own pollinator-friendly paradise.

B. Essential Spring Preparations for Gardening Success
PATRICK FERREL / EARL MAY NURSERY
Put it all and discuss work items we all need to address in springtime to enjoy a summer of bountiful gardens. He will cover pruning for trees and shrubs as well as other gardening preparations.

C. How to Keep Your Houseplants Healthy and Propagate More
KATHY HALTMeyer / MUSCATINE COUNTY MG
Get a black thumb? Why do all of your houseplants die? Find out what the correct light, water, and fertilization needs are for different types of houseplants. Different types of houseplant propagation will be demonstrated.

D. New Perennials for 2022
MARIA MCCULLEY / HILTOP NURSERY
New items on the market are sometimes a bit scary...will it grow in my yard? Does it play well with others? This class will show some of the new perennials in the greenhouse for 2022 along with tips on placement for best success. Start off a new decade with a few new items to make your garden grow beautifully.

E. Soil Amendments for Gardens
VIRGIL SCHMIDT / ISU EXTENSION
Explore appropriate soil amendments and soil management practices that will improve soil productivity.

F. Vegetables: Trends and New Varieties for 2022
SHANE MARIET / MARIET FARMS
Investigate current vegetable trends and learn about new varieties of vegetables that can be grown in your backyard garden.

G. Geraniums: Not Grandma’s Red
LAURA MCGINNIS / HILTOP NURSERY
We now have splashes of color! We will discuss types of growing patterns in geraniums.

LUNCH
SESSION 3

A. A Garden for All Seasons
   CHUCK PORTO / IOWA CITY LANDSCAPING
   Trees, shrubs and perennials add multi-seasonal interest to the garden and landscape.

B. Butterfly Gardening
   RAY WOLFF / SCOTT COUNTY MG BUTTERFLY GARDEN
   Plan a garden with warm, dry or wet weather climates. What should you consider and what plants can adapt to climate changes?

C. Fruit Trees for Iowa
   PATRICK O’MALLEY / ISU
   Learn about the advantages and disadvantages of growing common and unusual fruit trees (such as pawpaw).

D. Gardening Accents and Accessories
   LYNN PRUITT / MUSCATINE COUNTY MG
   Moving beyond just plants. Use garden accents that stand out, yet still blend in. Learn to use garden ornaments, statuary, small trees and shrubs to showcase your flowers.

E. Low Maintenance Landscaping
   TODD WIEBENGA / AUNT RHODIE’S LANDSCAPING AND DESIGN STUDIO
   Learn some simple techniques and changes you can make to your high maintenance garden to lessen the burden. Transition your spaces into low maintenance landscaping to fit your time and abilities.

F. The Wonderful World of Worm Composting
   LANA ARTZ-MCCOMB / LOUISA COUNTY CONSERVATION
   Worm composting, or vermicomposting, is a fun and fascinating way to reduce the amount of food waste that a household sends to the landfill, all while creating rich, organic soil for gardening. This presentation will provide an introduction to worm composting, including how to easily set up your own in-home worm bin. An active worm composting set-up will be present for further exploration.

G. Veggies 101: Seed to Harvest
   LISA HINZMAN HOWARD / LINN COUNTY MG
   Learn the benefits and basics of growing your own food at home, plus ideas for maximizing your bounty.

SESSION 4

A. Shade Tree Solutions
   CHUCK PORTO / IOWA CITY LANDSCAPING
   With too many maples and ash disappearing, it is still possible to add color and diversity to your shade tree canopy.

B. Choosing True Lilies for Your Garden
   WANDA LUNN / LINN COUNTY MG
   Choose true lilies to add elegance beauty and height to your garden! Likes can fit your garden with color—from the shady May Martagonis to the exploding Asiatics in July—we'll chat about the newest bulbs.

C. Climate Change and Gardening
   RAY WOLFF / SCOTT COUNTY MG
   Plan a garden with warm, dry or wet weather climates. What should you consider and what plants can adapt to climate changes?

D. Climbing Color: Clematis in Your Garden
   WANDA LUNN / LINN COUNTY MG
   Clematis can add height and glorious color to your garden using very little space! Easy to grow with a rainbow of blooms. Plant them on a trellis, fence or wall for all the summer color.

E. Mushroom Production for the Homeowner/Hobbyist
   TYSON ALLCHIN / ALLCHIN ACRES LLC
   Learn to cultivate mushrooms at home with little-to-no specialized equipment, and discover indoor and outdoor activities to incorporate mushrooms into your life.

F. Plan a Salsa Garden for This Spring
   DEB WALSER / LINN COUNTY MG
   What plants can we grow to make a salsa garden? Which tomatoes, peppers and other garden-grown produce goes into growing a salsa garden? We will learn the tricks of when, where and how to plant a salsa garden. We will see plants that will make it easy to grow.

G. Pollinators: Plants for Butterflies and Hummingbirds
   JON KOCH / MUSCATINE WATER RESOURCE RECOVERY
   What is a pollinator plant? We’ll explore why they good for the environment, as well as how to plant, find and maintain pollinators so they attract butterflies and hummingbirds.

Please take note of our COVID-19 health and safety protocols at eicc.edu/covid19
