Our Story

The Midtown Family Community Center (MFCC) was founded in the Summer of 2007 as a project of the Jones Street Neighborhood Coalition.

In collaboration with Boys and Girls Home and Family Services, Inc., the MFCC is housed in the Boys and Girls Home building at 525 14th Street in Sioux City, Iowa.

The goal of Midtown Family Community Center is to enhance the lives and futures of those persons living in the Rosehill and Jones Street neighborhoods of Sioux City. These neighborhoods, located on the near north side of downtown, are the most culturally diverse and economically challenged within the city.

Volunteers from local service groups, churches, and organizations have generously assisted with building improvements at MFCC. Countless hours of labor, donations of needed items and grants have made it possible for many programs and activities to be offered to local residents.

Programs

Today, activities, programs, and services are offered six days a week at Midtown Family Community Center. Some of these events include:

- ZUMBA classes
- Panther team soccer
- Angel Harbor Ministries
- FREE meal serviced on Saturday evenings
- AA meeting / juveniles
- Computer lab
- Neighborhood Library
- Estrellas de Jalisco
- Food Pantry
- Mankind meetings
- ISU Extension classes offered in Spanish
- Youth camps
- 4-H Clubs for elementary youth and teens

Volunteers Needed

Volunteers are needed to assist with programming and monitoring activities at Midtown Family Community Center. You can make a difference by contributing your time and talents. If you have an hour or more, there are opportunities to give back and help those less fortunate.

Volunteer application forms can be picked up at Midtown Family Community Center. All applicants will be screened and training will be provided prior to individuals beginning their work at MFCC.

Make a difference, get involved. You won't regret it.
